Principal's Message

Fete

All roads lead to Kingsville tomorrow and we are expecting a great day to celebrate the Spring Fete. Glorious weather, great food and coffee, entertainment, bargains galore and those exciting rides will be just a few of the many attractions.

After weeks of planning and with very little drama, our Fete team has come up with the goods again. I would like to thank them all in advance for their work and tomorrow will undoubtedly prove a huge success.

Today on the eve of the fete there are parents and helpers all over the school working away to ensure everything is ready to go. So thank you to fete team and all parents, volunteers and Kingsville families for your generous contributions of time and resources.

Fetes always bring communities together from small country towns to large city affairs. Yes they are of course about raising funds, but importantly they also provide opportunity to build community, new relationships and renew old friendships.

Generations of Kingsville families, members of our immediate community, along with many "out of towners" who just love fetes will be here in large numbers tomorrow.

One sad note only, no Principal's stall this year. I thought I would give you a break from having to buy back your own 'vintage' donations at highly inflated prices. Instead I will be mingling and helping out on some stalls, when I get 'itchy fingers'.

So up early tomorrow to begin the fun from 10a.m.

Full details of our success and specific thanks to all those who contributed in newsletter next week.

Getting into Fete mood

Assembly items are always a joy to behold and the long standing tradition of classes participating actively at Friday morning assembly time builds confidence and self-esteem. Singing, dancing and sharing achievements are an expected weekly event.

Jacinta Bok's class Prep A were no exception today with their presentation. Ava Artavilla introduced the item and following some great fete promotion from every member of the class the students were successful in getting every single person in the hall up and dancing. Prep A you were all very successful in building fete excitement – well done.

PYP Exhibition

Please see significant information regarding the year 6 PYP Exhibition taking place next week provided by Jeff McDonald, PYP co-ordinator. Well done to all staff and students for your hard work leading up to this important event. Thank you also to parents of year 6 students who have supported and contributed throughout the process. As Head of a PYP school I am extremely proud that such an opportunity to share learning can take place and that it has been so successfully integrated into the expected events for each year.

Next week Principals, teachers, a number of staff and students from other schools will join with parent visitors here and share in the knowledge, understandings and investigations undertaken by our students.

Thank you to Jeff McDonald for his work and guidance relating to the exhibition.

Acting Principal

I would like to inform the school community that I will be on leave for approximately the next 5 weeks. I am undergoing a necessary orthopaedic procedure but expect to be back at work before the end of the term. I am very lucky to leave the school in the capable hands of Carolyn Withers who will act as Principal during this time. An Acting Assistant Principal will be determined next week to assist Carolyn during this time. Information regarding this will be in next weeks newsletter.

PYP Exhibition

The PYP exhibition is a requirement of all Authorized PYP schools. It represents a significant event in the life of a PYP student, making sense of the essential elements of the PYP and sharing them with the whole school community.

The exhibition provides the culminating experience of the student's engagement with the Primary Years Programme (PYP). The exhibition is an extended collaborative investigation, which is undertaken by students in their final year of primary school and provides a forum for demonstrating the attributes of the Learner Profile to our community.

So Why Do We Do It?

- to provide students with an opportunity to demonstrate with purpose the way they have included the learner profile and attitudes into their learning
- to provide authentic opportunities for students to take responsibility for their learning
- to celebrate this rite of passage with all the key stakeholders – parents, teachers, Kingsville students and the wider school community
- to give our local secondary school teachers an understanding of the capabilities of Kingsville students
- to provide teachers and students with authentic evidence to assess understanding.
- to provide parents with information about what has been learnt and the process of getting there
- to give younger students a significant event to look forward to and the expectations that go with it

The staging of the exhibition in week three of this term is the culmination of this extended collaborative investigation and our students are looking forward to sharing their learning with both their parents and the wider school community. The transdisciplinary theme being explored is HOW WE ORGANISE OURSELVES- *An inquiry into the interconnectedness of human made systems and communities; the structure and function of organizations; societal decision-making; economic activities and their impact on humankind and the environment.

The children will be sharing their knowledge and understandings along with the actions they have taken through inquiries into the central ideas below.

- Strategically planned buildings affect the way we live.
- Cities need careful planning in order for people to have a happy, healthy and comfortable lifestyle.

- Different organisations have structures to keep them in order.
- People's perspectives on racial equality can be influenced by their environment.
- The help that organisations give, can impact on the less fortunate.
- To protect all its citizens a country requires a variety of systems and people that have honesty and integrity.
- Organisations can have a positive impact on the community.
- Laws are formed through government process and the need for change.
- The purpose and function of different government systems.
- Federal budget spending requires a great deal of planning, consideration, discussion with many groups, organisations, politicians and individuals.
- Organisations are structured in a way that creates success.
- Companies can change and consumers need to respond to these changes with different actions.
- The strategic planning of a town or city is decided by the form and effect of the design.

I encourage all parents including those from other year levels to take this opportunity to visit our exhibition and talk with our fantastic grade 6 students. The exhibition will be held in the grade 5/6 building and the hall and is open on:

Tuesday October 21st: 2.30pm to 4.00pm

Wednesday October 22nd:

- session 1: 12.00pm to 1.30pm
- session 2: 6.00pm to 7.30pm

Thursday October 23rd: 9.00am to 10.30am
